

Angela & Paul McGuinness - Scottish Highlands

Angela had been looking for something to do with her spare time for a while when my job ended just before Christmas 2008. When nothing new had turned up by the middle of February it was Angela who suggested we gave Kleeneze a try (the ladies always have the best ideas).

I have to admit I wasn't really sold on the idea but I thought 'well what the hell - we can't earn any less than we are doing now'. So I read the information that Angela had, and I listened to the conversation with Geoff, before we decided together that this Kleeneze opportunity could be a solution to our sudden financial trauma.

We signed up, bought an extra 200 catalogues, and after a few days waiting for the delivery (everything takes a little longer in the Highlands) got to work.

It took us a day to prepare 250 catalogues for distribution, a couple of hours to distribute them. The following morning we collected in the catalogues and with them £380.24 of orders, which earned us nearly £80 in retail profit (enough to cover the basic sign up fee).

The support and encouragement we got from all our up-line at this point was tremendous, something which neither of us had ever experienced in any job before. With the Kleeneze brand behind us, and the support of our up-line we went from strength to strength.

Our first full sales period saw us earn £1,373.34.

Both of our children Bethan (11) and Ethan (4) had already told me that they liked me better while I was doing this new job, and it was the first time in years that I had smiled at work. I had begun to realise that you don't have to dread going to work every day. By the end of our second sales period we had achieved Gold distributor status, which is the first step in qualifying for the Autumn conference, and earned another £2,413.12.

I don't know who was more excited by our success us or our upline!

We have now diverted some of our attention to sponsoring others and aim to build a team of retailers, not only in the North of Scotland, but throughout the UK. Our target is to reach earnings of £6,000 per month by the end of the first year, which from what we've seen so far is certainly achievable with the support that's offered to anyone willing to work hard within the Kleeneze empire.

When my last contract ended just before Christmas there were other contracts which I could have picked up straight away. Because I waited until the new year to start looking all those contracts were filled, I've only just started hearing of new contracts starting (end of April). Not taking one of the contracts that were available last December could just turn out to be one of the best mistakes of our lives.
